Dear sir,

As a inspector, I find that the poultry products imported form America mainly were chicken paw, mixed wing parts, leg quarter, gizzard etc., the hygiene conditions of the products were not optimistic, some quality index did not meet the poultry standard of China obviously, especially gore, feather were detected seriously.

The poultry processing industry walked out to other countries earlier. Many poultry producers were audited by government of Japan, EU, and the United States. Poultry enterprises contribute to establish the food safety system from farm to table sustained. They recognized by agencies of other countries.

I agree that China can export poultry products to USA so as to improve the American poultry slaughter plants quality control capabilities in the poultry byproducts.

Sincerely
Jia Bao
