

FSIS is Hiring Consumer Safety Inspectors!

Join FSIS Professionals in Protecting Public Health

The Food Safety and Inspection Service (FSIS) employs approximately 9,000 federal employees across the United States. We work collectively to conduct a broad range of food safety activities to achieve our overall vision - that everyone's food is safe.

FSIS employees are highly trained, motivated, and skilled professionals. Our workforce is critical to the mission of the Agency and we strive to ensure that FSIS is a great place to work.

Recruitment Event

Target area: Sweet Grass, MT

APPLY in USAJOBS.GOV

Browse our Career Opportunities Online

fsis.usda.gov/careers/job-opportunities

fsis.usda.gov/careers/incentives/federal-employee-benefits-summary

Qualifications

Learn More at USAjobs.gov or contact Horace Brown

1 year of specialized experience gained after your 16th birthday related to the food industry (e.g., experience in a meat or poultry slaughter, processing, or other food manufacturing plant, meat cutter/butcher, quality control/lab, chef/cook, veterinary technician).

or

B.S. degree or full 4-year course of study in any field leading to a Bachelor's degree from an accredited college/university that includes at least 24 semester in biology, mathematics, physical or agriculture sciences.

U.S. citizenship is required.

Competitive starting salary based on locality. Overtime is compensated and benefits are included. Visit usajobs.gov for more information.

Follow FSIS for the latest news and updates.

@USDAFoodSafety

USDA-FSIS