About This Site

Welcome to the Workforce Recruitment Program (WRP) database!

All WRP candidates self-identify as individuals with disabilities eligible to be hired via the Schedule A Hiring Authority. This means that the WRP provides federal employers access to the largest pool of candidates who can be hired non-competitively into temporary, term, or permanent positions via Schedule A, 5 CFR 213.3102(u).

How to View the Employer Menu: In your left-hand All Applications menu panel, click "Employer" to expand your menu.

How to Search Student Applications: Go to the Search Student Applications page in your left-hand menu to search the database of WRP applications based on a wide variety of criteria. Click on the student's application number to view their application and attached documents, including a resume and transcript. To select a candidate and save them for later viewing, click the student's application number, then click the "Select Student" button to add that candidate to your Student Hiring Management page.

Once you have identified candidates whose skills may fit your agency's needs, you may contact them directly via email or phone to conduct further interviews and/or make job offers. You can also invite candidates to apply for other internships or career programs within your agency. Follow your agency's
