MONTHLY CERTIFICATION FROM APHIS-ACCREDITED VETERINARIAN FOR EXPORT OF POULTRY MEAT TRANSITING THE EU

To: FSIS Veterinarian

Establishment Number ______________

Grower name/number
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________
____________________________________________________________________________________

I am hereby informing you of the following regarding the health of commercial poultry flocks listed above.

1. The flock contains only poultry hatched in the United States or imported into the United States as day-old chicks.
2. The flock is not under any Federal, State, or local quarantine with respect to any poultry disease.
3. The flock is not located within 10 km of the U.S.-Mexican border.

_____________________________________       ________________________      __________________
APHIS Accredited Veterinarian                              Date                                              Accreditation number
Signature

___________________________________
Printed/Typed Name of APHIS
Accredited Veterinarian

Edition date- March 4, 2009